

Nurse Educator Certificate Program of Study

J Term Spring	Crs
N785 Foundations of Curriculum Development and Evaluation in Nursing Education Examination and application of knowledge and skills related to curriculum planning, implementation, and evaluation for nursing education. Emphasis on history and philosophy of nursing curricula, models of curriculum and evaluation, and strategies for change and innovation.	3
Spring	Crs
N786 Foundations in Teaching and Learning The focus of this course is the planning, implementing, and evaluation of teaching and learning strategies for nursing education within diverse settings and student populations.	3
Fall	Crs
N787 Nurse Educator Practicum Application of knowledge and skills in the nurse educator role in selected educational environments (classroom, clinical, laboratory and/or communities). Seminar component included for discussion of instructional experiences and issues.	3
Total	9

The Nurse Educator courses (N785 and N786) will be delivered in a hybrid format (primarily online with regularly scheduled in class sessions). The Nurse Educator Practicum (N787) may be arranged close to a student's home community and will include periodic in class seminar sessions. The Nurse Educator Certificate Program is considered a distance option. It is not possible to complete the certificate without coming to campus, but more than 75% of the content is delivered at a distance.